

Invitation from Mensa France

On behalf of Mensa France, we are the designated organizers of Lud'été, a yearly event that mixes a summer university and a holiday week open to Mensa members worldwide (as well as their relatives and guests), with hundreds of people attending. This year, Lud'été is to take place in Tignes in the French Alps from July 8th to July 15th. It will feature many activities, workshops and conferences, most of them entirely organized by our members and all to be held in French.

Inscription costs are 40€ per person aged 16+ and 20€ for participants aged 5 to 15 (children up to 4 are not charged). This includes access to our temporary headquarter and all Mensa-organized activities as well as a welcome buffet lunch and picnic (please note that all additional costs – including transportation, lodging and food – remain at each participant's own expense).

For more details on how to get inscribed and access the event's dedicated website, members can contact Richard Huméry at membership@mensa.fr (either in French or English).

Thanks for your help spreading the word, and hoping to see you soon,

Hélène Durand and Ann Maesele
